TERP FIELD HOCKEY: NATIONAL CHAMPS

By Jon Gray

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Terrapin field hockey coach Missy Meharg said her team's push for a national championship began long before the start of this season.

It started before the 1999 season, she said, when much of the previous team graduated and new leaders emerged.

Those leaders formed the nucleus of the team that won the program's third national title yesterday with a 3-1 defeat of Michigan.

"Really, it started two springs ago, in this kind of quiet," said Meharg, whose team lost in the NCAA second round last year. "Last year we learned a tremendous amount about us as a team in the second round of the NCAAs at home. We learned some things about courage, learned some things about expectations as a team. Last spring, in my feeling, is where we decided that we could be a fantastic field hockey team."

Yesterday's win capped a season that started with a No. 1 ranking and ended with a team-record, 22-game winning streak. The Terps, who scored the game-winning goal yesterday with one second left in the first half, huddled immediately after the game, with players crying and lifting each other up.

"I don't even know what I thought it would feel like," junior back Lindsay Gorewitz said. "I'm still kind of in shock. I'm probably not going to have a voice tomorrow."

The Terps have won two other national titles since the tournament's inception in 1981 — in 1993 and 1997. But Meharg, who has developed many national team players, said this year's team was the most

Cross-country
Fein, a senior at Oregon, won the pre-NCAA meet with a time of 24:06.31, the fifth fastest run on the 4.96-mile University of Indiana course. As a junior, he became the first Duck to be an All-America in cross-country and indoor and outdoor track and field in the same academic year.

Jenny Streiffer, Baton Rogue
Soccer
Streiffer, a senior forward at Notre Dame, scored a hat trick and added an assist in a 7–1 win over Miami to become the fourth woman NCAA player to reach 60 goals and 60 assists in her career. The seven-point performance ran her totals to 62 goals and 65 assists.

Ellen O'Neill, Hanover, N.H.
Marathon
O'Neill, 34, the Dartmouth women's cross-country coach for eight seasons and a former distance runner at the school, won the Clarence DeMar Marathon in 2:56:30. It was her first race at the distance, and her time was only six seconds short of qualifying for the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Falo Poumelo, Oceanside, Calif.
Football
Falo, a senior running back in Oceanside High, ran for 203 yards as the Pirates came back from a 14-point deficit to beat Torrey Pines High 24–21. After scoring on a 25-yard second-quarter run, he helped tie the game in the fourth when he took a screen pass 27 yards for a touchdown.

Rachel Hiskins, Victoria, Australia
Field Hockey
Hiskins, a junior midfielder for Maryland, was named ACC player of the week for the second time this season. She had four assists in an 8–2 win over Princeton and two more in a 2–0 defeat of Old Dominion that boosted the No. 1-ranked Terps' record to 16–1.

K.J. Hippenstool, Roanoke, Va.
Tennis
Hippenstool, a freshman at Stanford, beat Virginia's Brian Vahaly 6–1, 6–3 to win the Reebok/ITA All-American Championships. He didn't lose a set in winning the second leg of the intercollegiate grand slam and becoming the fourth Cardinal in this decade to win the tournament.

Rachel Hiskins was featured in Sports Illustrated's Faces in the Crowd in November of 1999.

Assistant coach Kate Kauffman (left) and head coach Missy Meharg represented the United States in the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta.

Autumn Welsh and Dina Rizzo along with captains Keli Smith and Carla Tagliente were all members of the Junior Pan American title team that played in Barbados in April of 2000.

2000 Season Preview

The Maryland field hockey team, one of the elite programs in the history of the sport, enters the 2000 season in a very enviable position. All of the Terps' 11 starters, and a majority of the first and second string reserves, return from a team that won the NCAA Division I championship with a 24-1 record. The Terps return nearly 100 percent of their offensive firepower and every player from the tenacious defense that ranked No. 1 in the nation last season.

How do you top winning the third national championship in the history of the program and the second Atlantic Coast Conference tournament title in two years? How do you top a school-record 24 victories and a school-record 22 consecutive wins to close the season? How do you top the nation's No. 1 ranking for five weeks during the 1999 season?

"Repeat," says Meharg, "will not be the word of choice. The words and actions are more like reloading and ensuring that everyone's individual greatness plays a vital role in our team success, and creating a style of play yet to be seen in NCAA field hockey. Repeating, no. Reloading our energies toward our goals is what this team will be all about."

Maryland's incredibly talented group of veterans will be led by a quartet of All-Americans: seniors Rachel Hiskins, Keli Smith and Carla Tagliente and junior Caroline Walter. The four return as Maryland's top scorers and most durable players. They combined for 73 goals and 78 assists and each started all 25 games during the Terps' national championship run last season. Hiskins from the back, Smith and Tagliente from the midfield and Walter from the forward position will continue to compose one of the top foundations in hockey this season.

Hiskins, who will once again play an integral role on Maryland's set pieces, will be the center of both Maryland's attack and its defense. From her position in the center of the field, the Terps will run a lot of their offense through Hiskins to get the ball from one side of the field to another. She scored a career-high 18 goals and recorded a career-high 31 assists for a school record and ACC-leading 67 total points as a junior.

Smith and Tagliente, two of the nation's best players and one of the most formidable goal-scoring duos in college field hockey a year ago, will be paired again in the midfield. Smith, a two-time All-America second team selection, scored a career-high 13 goals and totaled a career-high 43 points. Tagliente, a three-time All-America selection who will certainly contend for national honors this season, enters her senior season with 54 career goals. She needs only 17 goals to become the school's all-time leader in that category.

Walter, the ACC Player of the Year last season, is one of the most technically sound players in the nation. She is outstanding when play moves inside of the circle and has one of the hardest shots in hockey. Walter scored a team-high 24 goals with five game-winners in 1999 and will be counted on for similar production this season.

"We have a tremendous core of seasoned athletes returning to our team," says Meharg. "When I say seasoned, I mean that they have been Terps for a long time. I cannot say enough about Rachel, Keli, Carla and Caroline. Those women are absolutely tremendous field hockey players and tremendous leaders in their own ways. They lead by example and that is a wonderful way to be leaders."

The Terps' group of veterans runs deep. Backs Molly Kauffman, Lindsay Gorewitz and Sarah Rappolt round out a senior class that has become accustomed to success. During their careers, the six seniors have captured one NCAA championship, two ACC titles, played in three NCAA Tournaments and won an average of nearly 20 games each season.

Kauffman, who will be a starter for the third consecutive season, anchors the backfield. Despite missing five games with a leg injury in 1999, she returned for postseason play and helped the Terps win three games in overtime as the defense allowed only six goals in six games. She is a two-time Mid-Atlantic Regional All-America first team selection who will be a team captain for the second consecutive season.

"Molly's individual skills, tackling ability and attacking abilities are tremendous," said Meharg. "We are going to look for Molly to attack from the back this season and continue to anchor the defense as she has in the past."

Keli Smith

Carla Tagliente

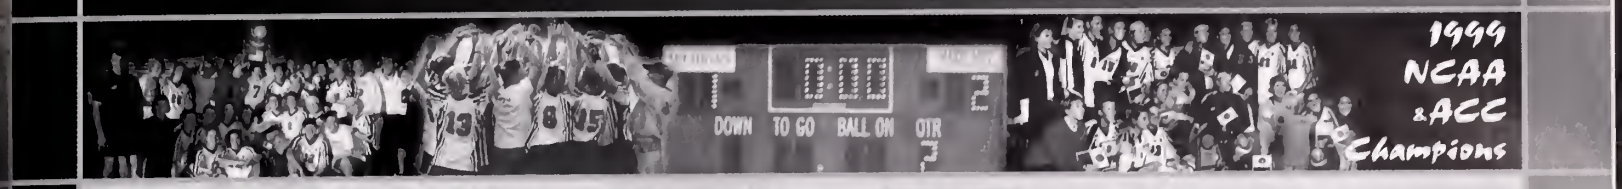
Junior Autumn Welsh, who along with Smith, Tagliente and junior Dina Rizzo, played for the U.S. Under-21 team this past spring, will be a major contributor on defense for the third consecutive season. She has a tremendously quick hit from the back and will play as a fullback in the Terps' defensive structure. Welsh was the 1998 ACC Rookie of the Year and earned Mid-Atlantic Regional All-America first team honors last season as the backbone of the Terps' defense.

Another senior who became a starter in 1999 is Gorewitz. Last season, Gorewitz displayed her durability as a starter with 23 starting assignments and 24 appearances. Meharg views her as one of the best one-on-one tacklers in Division I hockey who will have to maintain a high level of play for the Terps to continue their overwhelming success.

Rizzo, who uses her physical tools as well as any player in the nation according to Meharg, is another player who will be a major contributor for the third consecutive season. Rizzo was a Mid-Atlantic Regional second team All-American in 1999 and was a member of the U.S. Under-21 team that competed in the 2000 Pan American games and qualified for the Junior World Cup. Rizzo assisted on the game-winning goal in the Terps' national championship victory over Michigan last season.

"Dina is a tremendous scorer who will do anything in her power to gain attack opportunities for our team attack," said Meharg. "She can play any of the attacking positions and has grown to be a very good defender. She is really the combustion of the team both on and off the field."

Sophomore Carissa Messimer, who was one of the top freshmen in the nation last season, will play



alongside Walter on Maryland's forward line. Messimer scored the game-winning goal in the national championship game and scored 14 goals in the 24 games she played during her "rookie" collegiate season. She will be a key to Maryland's attack, which established a school record with 127 goals last season.

"Carissa is a Wayne Gretzky-type of player," said Meharg. "She has developed into an elite athlete and has one of the fastest releases I have ever seen. She also has the attitude and the passion to be great at the sport of hockey."

Maryland's overall team success can be credited to a number of intangibles, but none is more important than the Terps' deep bench that is made up of tremendous athletes all having the potential to earn roles as starters on this year's team. Last year's reserve players had a huge impact on the Terps' winning the national championship and contributed 24 goals during the season.

Senior Sarah Rappolt will see playing time for the 2000 Terps. She has played critical roles on the Terps' defense and on the attack in the last two seasons. Rappolt played in 21 games and displayed her offensive skills with one goal and one assist.

"Sarah brings an energy and a passion for competition that is contagious," said Meharg. "She will continue her leadership through the 2000 season."

Junior Megan Kelly will assume a very important role on this year's team. Described simply by Meharg as Maryland's "utility infielder," Kelly will be asked to utilize her tremendous speed to help the Terps on offense and defense. During her career she has played both a right midfield position on offense and a right halfback position on defense. She will be asked to play much more of an attacking position in 2000 as the coaching staff looks to take advantage of her speed, both with and without the ball.

Sophomore Angie Klingerman will contribute to the overall success of the Terps' offense on the forward line. Klingerman scored 11 goals last season including four against Georgetown and the game-winner against American in only her second career game. Dawn Christensen, a redshirt freshman, is a strong attacker who will look for her first action this fall. She spent her first season at Maryland on the practice squad while developing into a dangerous scorer.

Rachel Hiskins

Autumn Welsh

Kateri Simon will look for extended playing time after appearing in 10 games as a freshman. The sophomore has battled numerous knee surgeries throughout her career that have limited her playing time. A now-healthy Simon is ready to significantly contribute to the Terps' effort in 2000.

"Kateri is an incredibly versatile player who possesses tremendous physical tools ," said Meharg. "She can power up against any opponent."

Kristy Palchinsky and Carol Senkler, a pair of junior defenders, must play important roles this season if the Terps are to be once again successful in the national arena. Palchinsky contributed nine goals last season including two in Maryland's victory over Old Dominion on Oct. 17. She is also one of Maryland's top corner hitters. Senkler has developed into both a strong player and pivotal team leader. She has improved much and will earn significant playing time while playing a critical role in the development of the team this season.

Redshirt freshman Emily Greway and sophomore Carli Harris will both be critical in terms of the overall team concept. Greway, who sat out last season as a redshirt, is a sound player who understands the nuances of the game as well as any player on the team. She is a tremendous one-on-one defender who is very strong and very athletic. Harris is in her third year in the program and has been successful as both a defender and attacking midfielder. Her athletic attributes will be utilized in many positions on the field throughout the season.

"Carli is a true team player who can contribute in many positions," said Meharg.

The Terps will be solid in the goal with a stable of strong netminders. Junior Ashley Hohnstine, a Mid-Atlantic Regional All-American and NCAA Tournament selection, returns as the incumbent starter. Junior Jackie Reilly and freshman Erica Bicksler will challenge her for playing time.

Hohnstine led the nation with a 0.66 goals against average and ranked 11th in the nation in save percentage at .826. She became the Terps' starting goalie shortly after the 1999 season began and was a perfect 19-0 as a starter. Hohnstine started the final 16 games of the season including all seven of the Terps' postseason victories. Reilly appeared in one game during her first season as a member of the program while Bicksler represents the newcomers in goal.

"Ashley Hohnstine enjoyed a fantastic season last year. She is a strong and flexible athlete who clearly matured during her first season in the program," said Meharg. "Jackie had a tremendous spring season and has developed into a good Division I goaltender, and Erica is a quick, smart, hardworking student-athlete. I am very comfortable with our situation in the cage as the 2000 season begins."

Maryland's outstanding freshman class contains a pair of All-America first team selections, two of the top players from the state of Maryland and one of the top transitional players in the nation.

All-Americans Sara Silvetti and Catherine Rogers will join forces with Maryland all-state selections Courtney Thornton and Kristin Kelly from the state of Maryland and Beth Hafer and goalie Bicksler from Pennsylvania. All six newcomers will add athleticism and depth.

"Our freshman class is phenomenal," said Meharg. "For a team that didn't lose a tremendous number of players [goalie Zoe Ehrlich and forward Emily Ward], we were able to attract six outstanding players. This class deserves to be honored for its high athletic and academic background."

Maryland annually plays one of the toughest schedules in the nation and the 2000 slate is no different. The non-conference portion of the schedule includes a home-and-home series with Old Dominion and games against Connecticut (a 1999 national semifinalist) and NCAA Tournament participants James Madison and Massachusetts. In addition, Maryland will host Stanford and Ohio University for the first time in school history. The Terps' conference schedule includes games against Virginia, North Carolina, Duke and Wake Forest, all of which played in last season's NCAA Tournament.

"We have a tremendous schedule," said Meharg. "We have added some new teams and engaged in some back-to-back competition to prepare us for the postseason. I think this schedule is very fitting for this very high-performance team."

Coaching Staff

Head Coach Missy Meharg

Delaware 1985
13th Season at Maryland

Missy Meharg could be thought of as the coach who has led the University of Maryland field hockey program to two national titles. She could be referred to as a coach who has won three Atlantic Coast Conference championships as the Terps' mentor. She might also be known as the coach who has tutored 42 All-Americans on the field and 88 academic honor roll student-athletes off the field. Further, she could be recognized for the fact that she has developed 24 players who have competed internationally or that three of her current players are studying within the nationally recognized honors curriculum at Maryland.

The extraordinary numbers are as much a part of Meharg as she is a part of the numbers, but she is much more. As gifted an educator as she is a coach, Meharg recognizes the ability of athletic competition to teach life lessons. The coach emphasizes the characteristics of sports that can be used as a vehicle to develop successful lifelong qualities.

"Empowering the student-athletes to develop character traits that transcend athletic performance can shape the manner in which the athletes approach everyday life experiences," says Meharg. "A successful life ... lends the opportunity to be a national champion. Keeping hockey fun is vital."

The 1999 season was very special for Meharg and the entire Maryland field hockey family. The Terps won the NCAA Division I national championship, the ACC championship, a school-record 24 games, a school-record 22 consecutive games to close the season, had four players named All-American, five players named to the All-ACC team, 10 players named regional All-Americans, four players selected to the NCAA All-Tournament team, eight players named to the NHFCA All-Academic squad and 10 to the ACC Honor Roll.

Meharg has played an integral role in all three of Maryland's national championships. She has been the head coach for the last two (1993 and 1999) and was an assistant coach during the Terps' first run to the national title (1987).

During her tenure at Maryland, Meharg has coached 24 players who have competed on the international level. The Terps have been well represented in the Olympic Games, the Pan American games, the World Cup, the Olympic qualifying tournament and many other national team tournaments. In April, seniors Keli Smith and Carla Tagliente and juniors Autumn Welsh and Dina Rizzo helped the U.S. qualify for the Junior World Cup at the Pan American games in Barbados. Former Terps stars Chris DeBow and 1996 Olympian Kate Kauffman were joined by Tagliente on the 1999 U.S. team which competed at the Pan American games in Winnipeg. In addition, current Terps Smith, Welsh, Rizzo, Molly Kauffman, Lindsay Gorewitz and Carissa Messimer all represented the U.S. on the 1999 U-20 team.

Meharg's collegiate playing career was nearly as successful as her coaching career is now. She was a two-time All-America forward at the University of Delaware, where she also played lacrosse, from 1981-84. She was a Broderick Award nominee (in field hockey), which is the annual honor given to the most outstanding college player of the year. The Blue Hens won the NCAA lacrosse title in her sophomore year. She competed in four NCAA championship semifinal tournaments in field hockey and lacrosse.

Meharg enjoyed an impressive seven-year playing career with the U.S. national team from 1985-91. During that time, she was a member of the 1986 World Cup team and an alternate to the 1987 Pan American and 1988 Olympic teams. She capped her playing career as a member of the 1991 Pan American team and the 1991 U.S. squad that unfortunately missed qualifying for the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona.

Meharg is also an accomplished and experienced coach on the international stage. She was a member of the U.S. women's national team coaching staff from 1993-1997. She was an assistant coach for the national team that competed at the 1994 World Cup in Dublin, Ireland, and the 1995 Pan American games in Argentina. In 1994 and 1995 she served as the head coach for the U.S. Under-21 team.

During her career, Meharg has been extensively involved with the teaching of the U.S. Field Hockey Association Coaching Certification Program. She has completed two different certification programs, entitled "Olympic Solidarity" and "Preliminary Coaching Course," which are directed by the Federation of International Hockey (F.I.H.). Meharg enjoys doing color commentary work for television and has worked a variety of sports, including field hockey.

Meharg earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Delaware in 1985 and her master's degree in sports psychology from Maryland in 1989. She is the mother of two sons: 9-year old Andre and 8-year old Genya.

Fourth Season at Maryland

Andrea Bradley is in her fourth season as an assistant coach at Maryland. During Bradley's three-year tenure at Maryland, the Terps have won the national championship in 1999, ACC championships in 1998 and 1999 while establishing a .841 (58-11) winning percentage. Maryland has been ranked in the nation's top-10 in every weekly poll during her three years as an assistant coach in College Park.

The top assistant on Missy Meharg's staff, one of Bradley's main responsibilities is tutoring the goalkeepers. Bradley mentored Angela Platt, a NCAA All-Tournament selection during the 1998 season, and Ashley Hohnstine, a 1999 Mid-Atlantic Regional All-America second-team and an All-NCAA Tournament team honoree. Hohnstine was the nation's top-ranked goalie with a 0.66 goals against average and ranked eighth nationally with a 82.6 save percentage.

Prior to her arrival at Maryland, Bradley was an assistant at Iowa from 1995 to 1996. The Hawkeyes won two regular season Big Ten championships and participated in the NCAA Tournament during both of her years there. Before going to Iowa, Bradley was the head coach at Goucher College in Towson, Md., from 1991-94. During that four-year stint, Bradley led the team to a 37-18-2 record. She was named the NCAA Division III South Region Coach of the Year in 1992 and led Goucher to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance in 1994.

Bradley served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Under-16 team in 1998 and 1999. The Under-16 team is selected at the conclusion of the AAU Junior Olympic Games each August and introduces young athletes to international competition while preparing them for future national team consideration. She is also an instructor for the United States Field Hockey Association (USFHA) Level One coaching certification program. In addition, Bradley is the Regional Coaching and Administrative Director for the USFHA Futures program in the Chesapeake Region. She is currently the head coach of the Tidewater Tempest of the United Airlines Summer League.

Bradley led the Chesapeake Region U-16 team to a gold medal at the 1999 Futures Tournament, held at the University of Maryland.

A four-year letterwinner in field hockey and lacrosse at Delaware, Bradley was named the East Coast Conference Most Valuable Player in field hockey in 1987. She was also an all-conference selection in 1987 and led the Blue Hens to the 1985 ECC championship. A goalkeeper, Bradley holds Fightin' Blue Hen records for career shutouts (26) and ranks second in career saves (477). Delaware ranked in the top-20 throughout her career and was ranked as high as eighth in the NCAA poll during her junior season in 1986.

Bradley earned her bachelor's degree in physical education from Delaware in 1988 and her master's in exercise physiology from Northern Illinois in 1991.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Ten years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

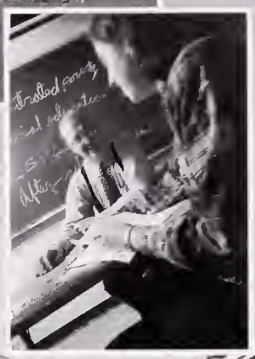
With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources such as inforM, or send electronic mail to faculty, fellow students or friends at other universities.



President C.D. Mote, Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.

Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining 10 percent appropriations increases in each of his first two years.

Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley.

By the end of Mote's second year at Maryland, the university's ongoing capital campaign, Bold Vision • Bright Future, had raised nearly $300 million of a $350 million goal. Including such landmark donations as Clarice Smith's $15 million for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and Comcast Corporation's $25 million for the Comcast Center. But Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not principally about raising money.

"They are about the university building relationships, with its alumni and friends of the university through the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as easily as the women's lacrosse team scores a goal."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

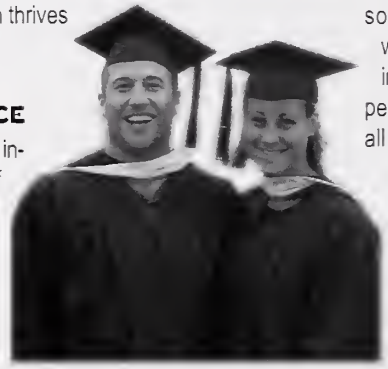
MARYLAND Terrapins

Among The Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

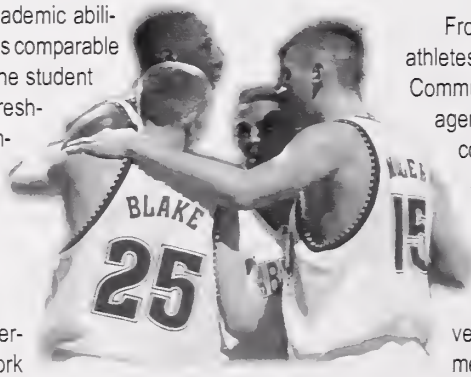
Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.



Academic Excellence

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.



Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

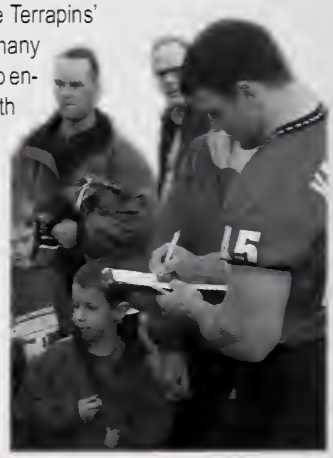
National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 15 national championships, including a record six consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1999-2000, another finish among the top 15 percent of all schools in the Sears Directors' Cup, which measures the overall athletic achievement in men's and women's sports.

Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.



Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

7th Year at Maryland • President of NACDA

Dr. Deborah A. Yow is in the seventh year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland ... a year in which she also has assumed the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, an organization with a membership of more than 6,100 athletic administrators representing 1,600 colleges and universities in North America and Mexico.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability. Likewise, her election to the presidency of NACDA is an indication of the respect with which Dr. Yow is regarded in intercollegiate athletics and education in the U.S. and Canada.

Also as a member of the NCAA Management Council and NCAA Division I Budget Committee, Yow presents a strong voice for excellence and integrity at the highest levels of intercollegiate athletics. In these national roles she has represented the University of Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference with a balanced and proactive voice.

• Balanced all six of the nearly $30 million annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years prior to her arrival).

• Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided to student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of nearly 90 percent during her tenure.

• Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.

• Reorganized and upgraded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 135% and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 270% during her tenure at Maryland.

• Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fundraising applications.

• Significantly improved customer care in every area.

Maryland athletic director Deborah A. Yow took over as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in July.

National Successes

The Terps enjoyed across-the-board success in 1999-2000, with the following varsity programs earning Top 30 rankings at one time or another during their respective seasons of competition, and two teams capturing national championships (field hockey, women's lacrosse).

Basketball (Men's)	Gymnastics
Football	Indoor Track (Women's)
Lacrosse (Men's)	Outdoor Track (Women's)
Lacrosse (Women's)	Soccer (Men's)
Field Hockey	Soccer (Women's)
Golf

The 1999 field hockey championship team.

The Maryland Department of Athletics has made remarkable progress under Yow's leadership. Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past six years, Dr. Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles. She was recently singled out by Street & Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Karen Schiferl, Academic Counselor/ Field Hockey

Led by associate athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in Cole Field House. It features a study center that includes 24 desktop computers, private study cubicles, a tutoring center, classrooms, and individual offices for four professional academic counselors, a learning specialist, an assistant program coordinator, and two graduate assistants. In addition, the center's extended site is located in the Gossett Football Team House, and includes office space for three professional counselors and a 16-station desktop computer center.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Mentor program
- EDCP 108-J (Career decision making and planning)
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-O (First-year transitions to the university)

EXCEL Mentors

Mentoring is a craft that is embodied in a person serving as counselor or teacher who provides advice and guidance to a novice learner. Educating by Creating Environments for Learning (ExCEL) is a mentoring program that establishes such a relationship. ASCDU hires and trains individuals who serve as mentors to student-athletes who have been identified as needing individual attention for learning strategies support.

M.A.P.S. Directory

The Maryland Athletes Placement Source is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses across the country. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The MAPS directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career Internship Fair

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search, and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Student-Athlete Career Internship Fair, in which student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest.

Summer Job & Internship Program

Due to the time demands of athletic practice and competition, most student-athletes do not have the chance to work or complete an internship experience. Employers desire to see work experience related to academic coursework on a resume. The Summer Job and Internship Program is one of the emerging services offered to student-athletes to meet this need. Student-athletes seeking employment opportunities and/or experience in their fields of study are assisted with locating prospects and submitting the necessary documentation to secure summer jobs and/or internships.

Terp Choices

Personal growth is fundamental to all ASCDU programs and services. Terp Choices is a program that provides student-athletes the opportunity to identify their fundamental values, develop communication skills, and enhance decision making skills that will enable them to manage their personal health and well-being. Interactive presentations are given by trained student-educators who intend to illustrate to athletic team participants that an individual's choice may affect an entire team. This campus-wide program is partially funded by grants from the NCAA and ACC.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of a representative from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The main purpose of the council is to provide student-athletes with leadership experience and a forum for dialogue with members of the administration about their roles, responsibilities and needs as student-athletes at the University of Maryland.

Strength & Conditioning

In the highly competitive collegiate field hockey world the off-field preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component to the on-field success of any Division I program. Dwight Galt, Maryland's director of strength and conditioning, believes strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development.

At the University of Maryland, the maximal development of athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more than just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical roles. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these areas, with special attention on the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

The Terps are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the nation. Conveniently located in the Gossett Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.

Media Guidelines

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Artificial Turf Facility may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Mark Fratto in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 1112 Cole Field House, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7064. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.
